FIRE PROTECTION.

THE visit of an agent of the underwriters to report on the cost of installing a suitable fire service for fire purposes in Tonopah is an indication that the election campaign of the Bonanza is beginning to bear fruit and proof that the charges of neglect were substantially correct. In taking this step the county commissioners will partially redeem their past misconduct and it only remains to see that the work is pushed and that the special tax levy for fire purposes is not frittered away in more high-priced apparatus which cannot be of any service without proper appliances. The preliminary and unofficial estimate of the cost of the improvement is forecast by an engineer of the underwriters at approximately $50,000. This figure is unquestionably too high and based on an erroneous understanding of the situation. The engineer in question, after looking over the premises and without having any knowledge of the franchise rights of the water company, resolved to recommend a virtual duplication of the present water system. This is wholly unnecessary and unequal for, as much of the present service would be available without paralleling the pipes in the business district. In taking these figures under advisement the county should have the benefit of the observations of more than one man and, then abide by a consensus of their views. It should be borne in mind that the engineer of the Nevada Public Service Commission stated a first-class service could be installed here at a cost not to exceed $35,000, and the Water Company of Tonopah offered to do the work for $30,000 by supplying the material and labor at cost price.

There is no gainsaying the fact that Tonopah stands in sore need of some improvement, but there is no excuse for precipitate action at this season when the ground is frozen and construction costs would be greatly increased. The county commissioners should have taken action during the summer—not in the dead of winter.

FOLEY WAS SAFE—HER FACE PROTECTED HER.

It is well to bear in mind that the recall applies to all elective officers after the first of the year. Unless the chosen representatives of the people behave themselves they are likely to find themselves called to account with a swift reminder of the fleeting pleasures of office holding.

The statute which was approved March 26, 1913, that every public officer is subject to recall by the qualified electors of the state, or of the county, district or municipality from which he was elected. The first requirement is that a petition signed by 25 per cent of the electors who voted at the election by which the officer or officers were elected shall be presented. In municipalities, counties and districts the petition shall set forth in not more than 200 words the reason why recall is demanded. These petitions shall consist of any number of copies identical in form with the original except for the signatures, every such copy shall be identified by at least one of the signers that the statements and signatures are true. Upon filing the petition the officer with whom same shall be filed shall, not sooner than ten days and not more than twenty days thereafter, issue a call for a special election to be held within twenty days after the issuance of the call to determine whether the people shall recall such officer, provided if such officer shall offer his resignation within five days after the filing of such petition, such resignation shall be accepted; if such officer shall not resign he shall continue to perform the duties of his office until the result of the special election shall be declared.

At recall elections there shall be printed verbatim as set forth in the recall petition, the reason for demanding the recall, and, in not more than 200 words, the officer's justification of his course in office, if furnished by him. If there be no other candidate nominated to be voted for at said special election, the name of the officer sought to be recalled and the office he holds, together with the words "For Recall" and "Against Recall." Where there are other candidates for the office their names shall also be printed on the ballot and the words "For Recall" and "Against Recall" shall be omitted. The candidate who receives the highest number of votes shall be deemed elected for the remainder of the term, whether it be the person against whom the recall petition was filed or another. If an officer is recalled and other candidates are not nominated the vacancy thereby created shall be filled in the manner provided by law. No petition shall be filed against an officer unless he has actually held his office six months, save that it may be filed against a senator or an assemblyman in the legislature any time after ten days from the beginning of the first session. Only one recall can be filed against a senator or assemblyman during his term unless petitioners pay into the treasury from which the expenses of said special election have been paid the whole amount paid out of the public treasury for the preceding election.

FOLEY WAS SAFE.

THE bean eating, aesthetic and astute female philanderer from Boston who swears she would not for a million dollars again incur the risk of meeting the men of Nevada must have a higher conception of her own charms than that entertained by the "drunken miners" from whom she had so much trouble in escaping when she had to sleep in a hotel supplied with thin paper partitions. It was awful, but the fact that the lady from the extreme east is back in her old haunts proves that she was afflicted with an exaggerated ego that brought forth the conviction that her attractions would cause men to be real devils. It is sad, Maggie, to think you did not have a single proposal to report on your return to the effete and feminine ridden east where real men are so scarce the women lock their husbands up at night and guard them with lynx-eyed vigilance that they may not flirt with their neighbor's families. No, dear girl, men are not classed with the wild animals we have met in our wandering through the woolliest state in the Union and it is a foregone conclusion that more brutalities are witnessed every hour in the city of Boston than are heralded in a century in Nevada. Crimes against sex are almost unknown in this state. In Massachusetts they are not uncommon, the only difference being that in the latter part of the country where females abound the temptation is negligible, as the wrinkled visages of the old maids of New England are more useful in repelling than attracting masculine humanity. The vinegary personality of such speakers as the suffragettes sent out from the Atlantic coast may account for the rapid depletion of that section of manly men, leaving only the insipid and vealy college youth to meet the demand for escort duty.

The Russians announce that they have killed or wounded nearly a million Austrians, but they hope to do twice as well as that in the near future.

When English aviators invade Germany or German aviators invade France, they are not regarded as "little brothers of the air."

The Americans have withdrawn from Vera Cruz and the constitution-alists have entered, but the revolution endureth forever.

George Bernard Shaw says that moving pictures cause discontent. Among would-be dramatists, most probably.

When the Russians last invaded east Prussia they captured the kaiser's stock farm. This time they expect to get his goat.

The French have now issued a Yellow Book on the war. This is the first streak of yellow the French have shown since war began.

The Mexican generals seem to be falling out a great deal more readily than the Mexican private soldiers are falling in.—St. Louis Times.

Germany is now fining Belgium for violating neutrality. Pretty soon it will be accusing the Belgians of beginning the war and invading Germany.

Wool growers are advised to hold their wool. This is so the wool buyers can not fleece them.

The war in Europe appears to non-combatants to be nothing but murder in the first degree.

At seventy odd Richard Croker has married an Indian girl and has thus resigned as the Big Chief.

We presume that the kaiser will now take Allah into his confidence.
